Calvary Baptist celebrates centennial

This weekend the congregation of Calvary Baptist Church will celebrate the centennial of its organization. On June 9, 1886, the 31 charter members of the church met with representatives of the First Swedish Baptist Church of Chicago, Calvary's "mother" church, and organized as the Swedish Baptist Church of Evanston. (The church changed its name to Calvary Baptist in the 1920s.)

The seeds of the church were planted in 1882 when Evanston members of the Chicago church began holding gospel meetings in homes and local schools. Later the group rented what was then called Union Hall on Davis St. and held meetings there.

Calvary Baptist has been at its present location on the corner of Lake and Elmwood since erecting the house at 820 Lake in 1891 and the church building in 1894-95. An educational building was added in 1963 at 1431 Elmwood, replacing the house that had been the church parsonage. During the years several structural changes have been made to the church to accommodate the changing needs of the congregation.

The present congregation numbers 100 members, 15 of whom have been members for 50 or more years. Membership has been as high as 271 in 1943, and it has been lower.

In recent years Calvary Baptist was "mother" to the First Evangelical Haitian Baptist Church of Evanston.

Festivities for the celebration begin with the centennial banquet Saturday at the Holiday Inn. The main speaker is Rev. Richard Turnwall, son of former pastor William Turnwall, who served the church from 1931-1939.

On Sunday several senior ministers of the church's denomination will bring special sermons during the worship hour. A potluck follows worship, and the evening meeting features past musical talent of the church. On Monday the congregation will re-enact the 1886 service of organization and hold an anniversary party. Pastor Gary Mueller reports that former members are returning from as far away as Seattle and Portland, Boston and south Florida.

Pastor Gary H. Mueller Calvary Baptist Church 1431 Elmwood Avenue Evanston, IL 60201

Dear Gary:

I am not really happy with the time constraints of my visit to Evanston. I need to be back here in Coon Rapids for the Sunday morning service on June 8. That has pushed me to the decision that it is best for me to make the journey alone and to come by air. I am ticketed with Northwest, scheduled to arrive at O'Hare at about 3:07 p.m. on Flight #716. I will leave on Sunday morning at 7 a.m. from O'Hare also. It seems to me that under these circumstances it would be best for me to sleep overnight at one of the hotels served by the limousine service, assuming that there is limo service early enough to allow me to make that flight. I would like you to make such arrangements for me, please.

As I said first, I am not happy with such an abbreviated visit to a place and people who had such a great place in my formative years. But we will make the most of the time we have together. I look forward to the occasion.

If my proposal for travel and housing causes difficulty for you please let me know as soon as possible. By the way, I'd be very happy to come in from O'Hare via limo, too. I'm sure you and your people will be busy enough that afternoon. Just let me know, okay?

With every good wish I am yours

In Christ, Richard Turnwall

What follows is a list of all those who signed the guest book at last night's banquet. Please pardon any typos or misspellings. (The editor's ability to decipher some of your handwriting was less than one hundred percent successful, I fear.) 197 dinners were served, although rumor has it that Swede Swenson ate two. Congratulations, Calvary, on being 100 years young!
